Annie’s coaching career is focused on assisting high performing leaders from director-level management through C-level executives in a variety of industries to “move the needle” and reach that next leading edge in their careers.

With her experience starting and running several of her own businesses as well as recruiting, training and leading a team for a global organization, Annie Liou draws upon over 20 years of professional experience in Taiwan, China, the U.S., Thailand, and several Asian countries. Leaders come to her seeking to improve their interpersonal skills, accelerate their learning curves, and find the confidence to make important decisions about setting a new trajectory for their business and team.

Annie’s work is designed to break unproductive patterns, draw out courage, inspire new ideas and activate change. Annie encourages clients to build a deeper sense of self-trust and tap into their inner wisdom to make clear, confident decisions and positive behavioral changes. Clients appreciate Annie’s intuition and authenticity that comes from years of doing deep, transformative work of her own. Her style is focused and intentional so she can help develop stronger internal relationships as well as more authentic and influential external relationships with their teams, organizations, and communities, which has accelerated, elevated and sustained their success over time.

Annie Liou is bilingual in Mandarin Chinese and English
