Jason has nearly thirty years of experience as an Organizational and Leadership Development leader, coach, and consultant. He spent the first seventeen years of his career at Accenture, first as a human capital consultant and then moving into global operations leadership roles for over a decade. At OhioHealth, a health system spanning all of Ohio, he built and led their Leadership Development and Coaching programs for five years.

Jason has coached and developed leaders and facilitated large-scale change programs across a range of sectors and industries. His client roster includes well-known corporations such as Google, Amazon, Panera, Accenture, and Caterpillar; as well as community-based healthcare non-profits including OhioHealth, CNS Healthcare, McLaren Healthcare, and Trinity Health.

Jason holds a Master's in Organizational Development and Leadership from Fielding Graduate University, and a Bachelor's in Organizational Behavior from Miami University. He is a Professional Certified Coach (PCC) through the International Coach Federation and serves on the faculty team of the Hudson Institute of Coaching. He is the founder of Inner Sound Coaching & Consulting, a leadership development firm based in Columbus, Ohio, USA.

In his home base Jason is deeply devoted to nurturing his own family – a wife of 20 years and son of 15 years. He serves in community leadership roles for the Harmony Project, a unique nationally-known arts organization that delivers thousands of community service hours through projects and musical performances.

Born and raised in the working class “rust belt” of Ohio, Jason is a first-generation college degree earner in his family. His humble beginnings on a cul-de-sac on the shores of Lake Erie bring a certain grounded nature to his style, and a sense of commitment and loyalty to those that he serves.
