

Rick Lozano

Consultant

EXPERTISE

Leadership development

Team development

Emerging leaders

Coaching

Playing guitar and harmonica at the same time

EDUCATION

B.A. – University of Texas at Austin

CSP (Certified Speaking Professional) – National Speakers Association

Instructional design

Facilitation Certification

Gallup Strengths

MBTI Certification

Rick Lozano, CSP, helps people unlock potential and amplify their talent, and he does it all with his unique blend of energy, expertise, and a musician’s soul.

With twenty years of experience in award-winning talent and leadership development programs, Rick brings his unique approach to audiences across the globe, combining his expertise as a world-class speaker and facilitator with his talents as a singer/songwriter and musician.

He is the author of Acoustic Leadership – Develop A Leadership Culture That Resonates and the founder of Unlock & Amplify®, a talent development organization that specializes in leadership and team development.

As a facilitator, he has delivered workshops and keynotes to tens of thousands of people across the globe on topics as diverse as influence, leadership, customer service, sales, emotional intelligence, entrepreneurship, creativity and innovation, and diversity and inclusion.

He has served on the program advisory committee for the Association of Talent Development (ATD) three times and is currently the President-Elect of the Austin Chapter of the National Speakers Association (NSA).

He has built a reputation for his refreshing delivery that leaves audiences raving and - more importantly - with action items they can immediately implement to produce change.

Premier global leadership development experts located in every major region of the world. We can provide in-person and virtual solutions in 25 languages, leveraging 120 trainers, facilitators and coaches. Learn more at scitrain.com

